

Copyright Transfer Agreement

between ..... (authors' names)

hereinafter referred to as the "Author", and the "Publisher", De Gruyter.

The following has been agreed concerning the "Article" ..... (title of article)

to be published in the book

..... (book title)

..... (editors' names)

By their signature, the Author(s) warrant(s) that the Article under this Agreement in no way infringes upon any existing copyrights, performing rights, trademarks, rights of privacy, proprietary rights, or any other third-party right, and is not libelous or otherwise unlawful, and the Author(s) will fully indemnify the Publisher in consequence of any breach of this warranty.

With their signature the Author(s) hereby grant(s) to the Publisher, for the duration of copyright, the full and exclusive rights comprised in the copyright of the Article, or any part thereof and any revised editions, including but not limited to the right, by itself or with others, throughout the world, to print, publish, republish, distribute, transmit and disseminate the Work or any part thereof, including but not limited to the rights set out below, and to prepare, publish distribute, transmit and disseminate derivative works based thereon, throughout the world, in all media of expression now known or later developed, and to license or permit others to do so, effective with signature. The exclusive rights include but are not limited to the right to reproduce and distribute the Article in printed form, to produce machine-readable forms (including digitalization), to reproduce and distribute it electronically on all data carrier, to store it electronically in all storage media – particularly in online databases and to reproduce, distribute or make it available in intangible form including in electronic media or other online uses (both push and pull media), microform, interactive multimedia productions and electronic books, to the public or closed user groups, at the location and time of their choices, as well as to reproduce it on monitors or other scanner and to be printed by the user as many times as the user wishes, in whole or in part, including republication or in excerpt and the right to translate it into other languages.

The rights shall include all future printings/reprints/pressings including deposit in another archive or research library on these same terms and conditions. The Author(s) furthermore grant(s) to the Publisher the exclusive, permanent and territorially and substantively unrestricted rights for all unknown types of use. The Publisher may transfer the rights granted to it in whole or in part to third parties or appoint a reprographic society to exercise and protect such rights. If a license extinguishes because of the extinguishment of the underlying right of use of the Publisher, the Author(s) shall be obliged to permit a use by the licensee under the previous terms and conditions for the term agreed to with the licensee.

The Author(s) reserve(s):

1. All proprietary rights other than copyrights, such as patent rights.
2. The right to use all or part of this Article in future works of their own published more than two years after the original publication in the above named work and to grant or refuse permission to third parties to republish all or part of the Article or translation thereof. To republish whole articles, such third parties must also obtain written permission from Publisher.

However, the Publisher alone may grant rights concerning the Work as a whole.

I hereby assign the copyright to the Article to the Publisher.

This Agreement shall be governed by the laws of the Federal Republic of Germany. Place of jurisdiction is Berlin.
